THEY SAY 'THANKS' AT THE LIBRARY

70 AT STORY HOUR — More than 70 Cameron youngsters receive candy during the first Saturday morning story hour. Mrs. James Wiggs, who gave a reading of "Hanzel and Gretle" to the group of youngsters 5 to 9, distribute candy. Library officials were amazed at the turnout for the first Cameron Public Library Story Hour to be a regular event. Staffotogapher James Hollas could get only half the youngsters in this shot. The group met in the Library's refurnished meeting room.

Light Vote Favors Library Fund, 2 - 1

MAREK EDGES JOHN A. SMITH BY 215 TO 191

A light Cameron vote Tuesday approved 2 to 1 a library maintenance fund of $2,500 and elected J. C. "Jimmy" Marek over incumbent John A. Smith.

Incumbents E. L. Wied and Starrett Hickman were elected unopposed with 392 votes and 379 votes respectively.

The total vote was 422, Mayor Coleman Duncum reported.

2 TO 1 LIBRARY EDGE

The library referendum carried 264 to 131.

Marek eked out the win over Smith in Place 5 by 24 votes. The count was 215 to 191.

Miss Mildred Thornton, president of Cameron Public Library board, expressed appreciation for the public endorsement of the library maintenance fund.

And she thanked City Councilmen, voters and patrons whose support carried for the library fund

Following official polling of the ballots, the Council heard a report Rady & Associates engineers who presented a report recommending a 35-block repaving program in downtown Cameron.

Cost would be about $140,000 in one of two ways to do the job.

Engineers told Councilmen the project would include about five blocks of underground water main lowering that are already in the ground.

The 35 - block area is bounded by Gillis, North Fannin Ave., W. Fourth St. and Crockett Ave. Engineers drew up cross sections on the 35 blocks specified by city officials for leveling and resurfacing.

REMOVE CROWNS

Engineers from the Forth Worth firm recommended that high crowns of existing streets, some built in 1924, be lowered to eliminate steep parking conditions at high curbing.

Another Rady associate recommended three ways in which the City could finance the proposed program:

ONE — A matching fund program with 50 per cent from city bond funds and 50 per cent from federal funds, requiring declaration of a "depressed area" to make Cameron eligible for the Federal funds.

TWO —A bond issue for the entire amount.

THREE — Individual property owner assessment.

The representative said that "this city is in such good financial condition that it could issue bonds without other participation."

The Council took the eight - page report for further study.

With a lot of interest in libraries, both in Rockdale and Cameron The Dallas News' Tommy Turner, Central Texas bureau chief, wrote a fine story recently on Rockdale's new downtown library.

Only thing was that Tommy graciously placed its location in downton Cameron.

Cameron appreciated the gift, but has a location and plans of its own, Tom.

104 - 104 - 104

Tommy incidentally is scheduled to speak at the Rockdale Chamber barbecue May 7. He has made frequent visits to Milam County and has given Milam some good coverage on events down here.

104 - 104 - 104

Cameron's vote was not the only light one Tuesday. Communities around Central Texas all experienced small turnouts. Neighbor Rosebud had 347 votes, almost as many as Cameron's 422 and more than Rockdale's 184.

The only apparent explanation is a general apathy except where there was a contested mayor's race. Rosebud businessman Lee Roy McAtee won over Floyd Swanzy 227 to 119.

It is really a shame that so little interest develops in city elections across such a wide area when the movement is spreading for major improvements and more progress across Central Texas.

UP IN THE AIR — "One of those wild - type youngsters was driving everybody crazy on an airliner in flight, by running up and down the aisle.

Finally, one man looked up from his newspaper and rasped: "Son, why don't you go outside and play?"

The Daily Wit

Prescott Submits Resignation Here

County - Dist. Atty. Jack Prescott Tuesday told The Herald that he had submitted his resignation, effective June 15, to take up private practice in Temple.

He said his decision to move to Temple in June was to take advantage of an offer of "professional opportunity in my law practice which can only be accepted by moving my office to Temple, Texas, where I practiced law before moving to Cameron in December of 1951."

Unavailable for comment at presstime, Prescott wrote that his decision "was reached only after many months of thought and consideration."

He has served as county - district attorney in Milam County since election in 1960 and taking office January, 1961.

The letter of resignation, dated March 25, was presented to the Milam Commissioners Court.

An appointee will have to be named by the Court to fill Prescott's unexpired term of office which runs until December 31, 1964.

Both Prescott and County Judge Don G. Humble were out of town and unavailable for comment.

His letter read:

"To: The Honorable Commissioners' Court, Milam County, Cameron, Texas

"Gentlemen:

"I hereby tender my resignation as county - district attorney of Milam County, Texas, to be effective June 15, 1963.

"It has been a distinct pleasure to have served this County with you and the other officials of the County, and it is with deep regret on the part of my family and me that this resignation is necessary; however, I have new opportunities in my profession which I cannot refuse. I sincerely feel that I would be doing an injustice to my family by refusing to accept these new opportunities.

"We will be moving from Cameron; however, we hope and expect to continue professional and personal association in Cameron and Milam County.

"I am giving you this advance notice so that you will have an opportunity to appoint my successor so that the functions of my office will be continued without interruption.

"Again, my sincere thanks to you and all County and District officials for the splendid co - operation I have received as State's Attorney for your County and District."

Dr. Morrison Speaks At TB Dinner Meeting

Dr. Robert Morrison, president of the Texas TB Association and noted chest specialist of Austin, made a talk at the 8th Annual Dinner Meeting of the Milam County TB Association Tuesday.

The meeting was held in the Texan Cafe with 32 members attending.

Dr. Morrison stressed the importance of health education regarding TB. He said it still kills more people than all other infectious diseases combined.

He also explained why the mass x-ray survey is no longer used as a means of case findings, but urged that older people and contacts of known cases be examined frequently by their family doctors.

Poultry Contest Scheduled May 11

May 11 has been set by the Cameron Chamber of Commerce for the annual poultry show in Milam County.

The 70 contestants were presented the baby chicks March 15 and will grow the chicks for eight weeks. They will then take the best five chickens from the flock and enter them in the Cameron contest.

WELCOME SIGNS GOING UP AT 3 SITES TODAY

Cameron's welcome signs are to be erected today as the three sites have been secured and workmen started Wednesday.

The sign on the Temple Highway will be on the Jack Lawhorn property. The one on the Waco highway will be on property of Miss Mary Belle Batte and Mrs. Lelia Hickman.

The sign on the Rockdale highay will be on the Marvin Ethridge property on the east side of the Little River bridge.

The signs were purchased by the Chamber of Commerce from funds received from a pancake sale and variety show last November.

The signs are 4 x 10 feet and show a large outline of the State of Texas against a dark maroon background. Lettering in fluorescent paint says "Welcome to Cameron, Texas; Little Jewel on Little River."

There is a large jewel extending from an outline of the Litfle River in the location of Cameron in Texas.

The Cameron Lions and Rotary Clubs will hang club signs below it as each were major contributors for the signs.

School Election Saturday In City; Other Communities

The Cameron School election will be held at Yoe Gymnasium Saturday.

School district voters will elect two of three candidates to terms on the Cameron board.

Candidates are: Sam S. White, and incumbents K. D. "Buster" Griffin and Alton Fuchs.

A light vote was indicated in the election by the fact that no absentee ballots had been cast.

Griffin and Fuchs are appointees to the Cameron board seeking their first full term while White seeks a first term to the board. Both Griffin and Fuchs were appointed to the board last fall.

Board elections also are being held in all other Milam communities, including Buckholts Rural, Milano, Gause, Sharp, Burlington common schools and Rockdale and Thorndale independent systems.

Two men are seeking election as county trustees: W. L. "Bill" Howell and B. B. McAnualty, Jr.

Reduced Rates On Calls Announced By Telephone Co.

Many out - of - state long distance calls placed after 9 p. m. will cost less beginning April 4.

Lower interstate rates will be in effect from 9 a. m. until 4:30 a. m. daily on station - to - station calls of more than 220 miles, a Southwestern Bell Telephone Company spokesman said.

These "after 9" rates will be from five cents to 75 cents less than present night and Sunday rates for the initial three - minute periods.

For example, an "after 9" call from Houston to St. Louis will cost 70 cents for three minutes. Present lowest charge for this call is $1.10.

When the "after 9" plan begins, five - cent and ten - cent increases will be made on out - of - state person - to - person calls up to 800 miles. These increases will help bring these rates more in line with costs of providing this personalized service, the spokesman said.

Bell System long distance revenues will be reduced an estimated $30 million a year as a result of these changes, he added.

3rd SOS Sunday Coming April 21

Plans are taking shape for the third SOS Sunday, April 21, for administration of Type III Sabin oral vaccine, according to SOS administrator Bill Burns.

Vaccine centers will again be Simon - George Hall, O. J. Thomas Gymnasium and Yoe High School Gymnasium.

They will be open from noon to 5 p. m. Sunday, April 21, and manned by volunteer pharmacists, physicians, nurses and other workers.

Dr. C. G. Swift, a spokesman for the Milam Medical Association, said the same chairmen will work with Burns in conducting the final SOS Sunday.

The Type III vaccine has been approved for use following checks of a few Canadian and Midwest polio cases attributed to it. The United States surgeon general's office has removed any restriction on use of Type III vaccine.

SOS CHAIRMEN

Named to administer the program are:

Registration and Reception, members of the Medical Society Auxiliary; pre - registration, Mrs. Coy Arledge; vaccine committee, E. O. Schiller, Jr., chairman, Earl Curtis and Franklin Dusek; dispensing committee, Mrs. LeRoy Wheeler and Mrs. F. E. Jackson.

Also, traffic committee: Chief Elvin Hoskins and Sheriff Carl Black; site arrangements, Charlie Burke; and collection, John B. Henderson, Jr., and Adrian Richter; publicity Gene Smitherman, Lois Sapp and Patsy Matula.

Other volunteers will again be sought for the various committees, officials said.

The combined North and South Milam County efforts will coincide with other county - wide efforts in nearby counties.

SAME VACCINE

Type III consists of the same small, tasteless amount of sabin vaccine dropped over sugar cubes in a small paper cup. Children of all ages, except new born babies, can take the vaccine as well as adults. The process takes only half a minute.

Other SOS centers, if South Milam plans are followed, again will be scheduled in Milano, Rockdale, Thorndale, Sharp and Gause.

Adjacent towns of Rosebud and Rogers will also have SOS centers.

In the first SOS drive in September, 1962 about 16,000 received Type I in Milam County.

Rosebud Routes To Be Consolidated

The Rosebud Post Office will consolidate the four Rosebud Rural Routes into three routes beginning April 13, 1963 according to Postmistress Mrs. Vivian B. Killgore.

Patrons on Route Four will be taken in by Routes two and three. Jere McDonald will serve Route One. John Clark will serve Route Two and Howard Linn will serve Route Three.

Rural patrons on all routes whose mail boxes are not to the right of the rural carrier's line of travel will be requested to move their boxes across the road.

Red Cross Drive Rolls On

Funds 'Half-Way Home'

The Red Cross drive in North Milam is half way home, according to drive chairman Forrest Sapp

The Red Cross thermometer total at presstime Wednesday showed $1,502.83, about half of the $3,100 goal, drive treasurer Mrs. Walter Lester reported.

Three out of four rural communities reporting thus far have reached 100 per cent of their goals and Maysfield came close.

DONATIONS

Marak reported $52.25 donations of $50 goal; Baileyville $40; Burlington $30.09, just over the goal; and Maysfield $95 of a $100 goal.

The Cameron business community thus far has reported $608 with a lot of cards still unreported, Sapp said.

Residential donations held last week now total $540.49, Sapp noted. He listed $107 in donations from Cameron teachers. Mt. Zion Baptist Church gave $10, he said.

Sapp urged Cameron workers from Lions and Rotary Clubs to make their calls and turn in donations to Mrs. Lester at the county superintendent's office, Milam Courthouse, as soon as possible.

About 100 people are making contacts in Cameron and other North Milam communities on the annual Red Cross fund drive.

409 PINTS IN '62

Cameron last year received 409 pints of blood, gave about 150 pints of blood and gained about $5,000 in the savings on the additional blood received in the two local hospitals. In a Red Cross blood program county, any resident can receive blood without any charge other than administration. And he can receive blood anywhere in the United States without any blood charge.

Other uses for Red Cross funds include maintaining an office in Rockdale, getting emergency service furloughs, providing disaster funds and many other services.

STOP THE LONE

HUNTING DOG

Many hunting dogs like the sport so well they take off on their own, to pursue game, if they have the chance.

This is bad for the dog since he has no one with him to teach him good manners. Lacking supervision, he soon forgets the rules his master taught him.

So keep your hunting dog at home so he can't prowl the woods without you.

SAVE AMMUNITION

To save ammunition when sighting - in your rifle, keep in mind that a rifle bullet crosses the line of aim twice, once near the muzzle at about 20-30 yards and again way out where the rifle is normally sighted - in.

For example, a 30-06 using 180-grain bullets will cross the line of aim first at 25 yards, and again at 200 yards.

Sight at the closer range to get on, then put the final touches on at the longtr range.

GOOD USE FOR OLD SOCKS

Most hunters have old, discarded, brightly - colored socks lying around the house. Put these to good use by stuffing them in your hunting coat when bird hunting. Then when you down a bird in tall grass or brush, put a rock inside one of the bright socks and throw it near where the bird fell.

This trick will cut lost kills drastically.

Two Cameronites Attend Houston Humble Meeting

HOUSTON — B. F. Grimes, service station operator and H. E. McAtee, service station employee, for Humble Oil & Refining Company in Cameron attended the 9th annual Humble Manager's Convention in Houston Wednesday and Thursday.

They joined approximately 500 other Humble service station managers and sales representatives from Southwest Texas at the two-day meeting held at the Sheraton-Lincoln Hotel. Keynote speaker was John W. McFarland, Superintendent, Houston Public Schools.

During the convention, presentations were made on Humble's 1963 advertising, sales promotion, and merchandising plans, new product developments, and customer service techniques. Clinics were held on tires, batteries and accessories; motor oil and lubrication; cleanliness; and business analysis.

The purpose of these yearly meetings is to provide product and marketing information which will help Humble service station employees give better service to their customers.

Milam ASCS Report

As of the closing date, March 22 farmers in Milam County had signed up 1040 farms to participate in the 1963 feed grain program, Alva E. Sanders, county office manager, Agricultural, Stablization, and Conservation Service, reports. The "intentions to participate" forms show 29,277 acres diverted from the production of corn, grain sorghum, and barley.

For farms signed up, estimated total payments for diverting acreage amount to $467,058.00, not including price - support payments to be made this fall.

National program totals through March 7 show 642,835 farms signed up to divert 13,126,000 acres. Estimated total payments for diverting acreage on farms signed up amount to $253,813,300.

The 1961 and 1962 feed grain program have brought about a reversal of a 10 - year buildup in feed grain surpluses. By October 1 of this year, estimated total feed grain stocks of 61 million tons will be down about 28 percent from the record 84.7 million tons on October 1, 1961. Continued participation around levels of the past two years should bring feed grain stocks near desirable reserve levels by October 1, 1964.

KEEP TROPHIES CLEAN

You were mighty proud of that trophy when you bagged it. But have you kept it in tiptop shape since hanging it on the wall?

Chances are the mount has gathered dust and is dull and dingy. Bring back its luster by dusting it lightly with a soft cloth or feather duster. Then gently stroke it with a slice of stale bread.

Be careful not to ruff featers or fur.

The only Yoemen to place in the Rockdale Relays Saturday were Amos Doskocil and Merlin Lester.

Doskocil took a first place in the 220 yard dash as he finished three steps ahead of the second place man. He did not run the 100 yard dash because he pulled a muscle in that race in the Cameron Relays the week before. Under the set up of the meet the 100 yard dash is run three times as it is the only race with a simi - finals. Doscil and the coaches agreed that this additional start might pull the muscle again and he would be out for the district meet Friday.

Lester placed in a tie for second place in the high jump. But in the toss he lost and had to take the second place ribbon.

The Yoemen baseball team have been losing the close ones this year. In only one game this year has the margin of victory been more than two runs.

That was when the Round Rock defeated Cameron 10-6. But one run margains have been the rule. In the first game against Rogers Cameron won 1-0. Taylor took a 4-2 and 6-5 victory and Rogers took a 9-8 victory.

This week the Yoemen meet Round Rock on Cameron Field at 4:30 p. m. The school charges nothing for these games and the ball playing has been real good. We urge you to go out and watch the Yoemen in action.

John A. Smith is the leading batter on the Yoe ball club as he is swatting an even .400.

Mike nMikula went 0 for 4 i Taylor and slipped from a .461 to a .353 to take second place. He was the leading batter on the team.

Larry Paul Manley has a .312 average as he had a hit in three attempts against Taylor.

All of the other players have averages under 300.

District play for the baseballers starts against Rockdale on April 11.

Data Shows Huge Growth In Texas Industry Since '47

Statistics regarding the stupendous, almost unbelievable growth of Texas industrial colossus are impressive.

In 1947 Texas had only 163,978 persons engaged in manufacturing. Tody this number has ballooned to more than half a million. This means there are more jobs, greater prosperity and a healthier more diversified economy resulting in better business all - around. More than $4 billion was spent in industrial construction in Texas during the past ten years.

Texans are pausing during Texas Industrial Week, April 1-7 to salute and honor Texas industry which has been primarily responsible for the tremendous growth of Texas, both economically and in population.

Texas Industrial Week was created through a concurrent resolution of the Texas Legislature in 1951 and has been proclaimed each year by Texas governors to call attention to the contributions of industry to the economic development of the state and to the local community which have enabled Texas to grow and prosper.

In issueing the Texas Industrial Week proclamation, Governor John Connally stated that: "Industrial Week is a time to reemphasize that only through building and maintaining a good warm, and inviting business climate can Texas continue its diverse and flourishing industrial development. Through the maintenance of a good business climate, Texas can encourage the creation of new job opportunities through industrial growth, resulting in more business, more trade, more income and more capital to invest."

Connally emphasized that " it is important that Texans understand and cooperate in dynamic actions necessary to improve and keep our business climate good, warm and inviting. Texas must work constantly to improve the business climate through stable government on the state and local levels, and through sound labor - management relations."

The statewide observance of Texas Industrial Week is sponsored by the Texas Manufacturers Association which conducts a competition among local chambers of commerce to recognize outstanding local observances of Texas Industrial Week.

Building Your Home

The Texas Law

When you are ready to build, you will find that the law helps in many ways to make your home enjoyable an secure.

Have you decided on the type house you want and the amount you want to spend? If so, then let's go into details!

1. Your lot: Junior's school or your church may be nearby, but find out--

a. Whether they are planning to run a highway through the area or nearby or make any improvement for which you can be assessed.

b. What "Covenants" or restrictions run with the land? To protect residents, the plats or basic deeds of some neighborhoods call on you to build a certain size or type of house. Do you want to and can you afford it?

c. Easements. Either you or your neighbors may need to run pipes, or string wires over each other's land or to share a driveway. Have the abstract checked carefully to disclose any easements.

2. Zoning Ordinances: For your protection the local government frequently zones some areas, for example, for singles houses only, for multiple dwellings; for retail store for manufacturing, etc.

Unless the local governing body changes its zoning ordinance, no filling station, for instance, can go up next to you in a residential area. Neither could you turn your home into a store. In any case, you should find out what your neighborhood zoning rules are.

3. Building Codes: Be certain the plans and construction will meet the requirements of the local building code as to size, location and structure. Municipal ordinances usually impose strict standards for the building, the plumbing and the electrical wiring. In most cases only licensed building tradesmen are permitted to make the installations.

4. Financing: Financing contracts protect both you and the lender. Unless you pay cash, you will use credit to pay for your house, most likely a deed of trust or a land contract. Your installments often include principal interest, insurance and taxes. Under a land contract the lender holds title to your house until you pay for it. If you fall behind, the holder can take the house back. With a deed of trust, the lender has a lien which he can foreclose if you default. You may get some of yur money back on the principal; but you may also have to make up any loss the lender makes in re - selling the house.

Well worked - out contracts can help make your dream house come true. A construction contract or a so - called "earnest - money" agreement or receipt is no job for an amateur. Too many legal details are involved. Your lawyer is trained by education and experience to protect your best interests in contracting and closing real estate deals.

You know what you want. You should be careful to get what you want through careful planning and a properly prepared and executed contract.

(This news feature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform -- not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Local CYO To See Demonstration On Telstar Functions April 10

Telstar, the amazing switchboard in the sky, telephone calls sent over a tiny beam of light, and the direct conversion of sunlight into electricity are just a few of the interesting subjects to be described and demonstrated April 10 at 8 p. m. to the Catholic Youth Organization by Jim Sage, science demonstrator for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Using a one - third size scale model of the real Telstar, Sage will explain some of the 115 different functions of the world's first active communications satellite.

Another invention from the Bell Telephone Laboratories, the optical maser, also will be demonstrated. The maser is a device which produces a special kind of light beam that does not fan out or fade like ordinary light. This tiny beam of coherent light has the capability of transmitting thousands of telephone calls simulateneously.

Other items on the program include the transistor and the solar battery which converts sunlight into electricity.

All these things eventually will make possible a world - wide communications system, not only for voice and data transmission, but also for live television -- anywhere at anytime.

$50,000 School Improvement Bond Program Set For Rogers Schools

Supt. B. F. Harbour, Rogers Schools, reported that the Board of Trustees of the Rogers Consolidated Independent School District met in special session last week to receive a petition signed by more than the required 20 eligible voters calling for a $50,000 school improvement bond program.

He said the Board set Saturday, April 20 for the election, to be held in the high school library at the usual hours of 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. Tom Dubose, of Belton, representing the R. A. Underwood Co., of Dallas, was employed to handle the legal matters of the bond program. Dubose has handled the school bond programs of the past including the last one for $135,000 voted by a large margin in 1956. The bond program this year is proposed for $50,000.

Harbour noted that the first and major item in the proposed improvement program is the construction of a new cafeteria. The present building is a former government surplus building that is too small and is worn out. Some new equipment is also needed. The main building of the school plant and the gymnasium need a new roof. The gym in particular has suffer-under construction.

ed damage from rain. Constant reparing has failed to protect the building.

To meet the new state requirements in physical education and health Harbour added, dressing rooms and locker facilities must be considerably improved. This is not a 'ocal development but a state requirement. Painting of the interior of the main building is another need. The building has received only a one - coat job one time by the maintenance crew since its erection in 1941.

Covered walkways are needed for rainy weather in loading and unloading the busses and from the elementary buildings to the new cafeteria. Harbour said that various other improvements are also

WHAT IS POOLING?

In spite of all the jokes about "oil-rich Texans," most Texans aren't rich. Relatively few of them have even one oil well.

All Texans have a stake in the oil business, however, because it makes jobs, puts money into circulation, and pays taxes.

Texas oil operators have to compete with those in other states and foreign countries. This competition is tough and growing tougher. Improvements in production methods for greater efficiency are necessary in Texas. It is a question as to whether Texans prefer to do this job themselves or let the federal government do it.

Many of the most responsible people in the oil industry believe the Texas Legislature can solve some of the most troublesome problems by passing House Bill 510, an oil and gas pooling bill. "Pooling" in oil field language simply means putting separately - owned pieces of acreage together, sharing costs of drilling a well, and splitting any income proportionately.

A fair pooling law create drilling blocks of uniform and proper size (according to the spacing pattern of the field). It would help the industry to cut down on unnecessary development drilling and thus free capital for more "wildcat" drilling. It would provide a legal way for landowners to divide their minerals in proportion to their holdings.

An outcry has been raised against House Bill 510 by the professional "small tract drillers," who for many years have enjoyed the legal sanction to produce oil and gas which rightfully belonged to someone else. Advocates of pooling do NOT think that property rights should be confused with the "right" to take another man's property — that free enterprise should cover the FREE CONFISCATION of another's oil and gas.

Contrary to claims of persons who, for reasons of their own, want to retain the outmoded methods of the past, House Bill 510 does NOT tie up large blocks of acreage with one well; it does not affect any wells already drilled or reservoirs already developed; it does not take away the land-owners's bargaining power or change the terms of any lease except to the extent necessary to form a drilling block. House Bill 510 would merely give all landowners an opportunity to have their properties developed when some owners cannot be located or one owner seeks to obtain an unfair advantage. The rights of all would be EQUALLY protected.

Ask your Senator and Representative at Autsin to support House Bill 510 — so Texas, too, will have a reasonable and legal way to assure each landowner his FAIR SHARE.

Ready For $9 Million Rain

Prospects for a good crop are in need of a healthy rain now, farm observers say.

Grass actually looks better than a year ago, but an "insurance rain" sure would do nicely about now.

With Milam County heavily endowed in the livestock industry and dairying becoming a complimentary factor in the grazing industry, surface water means much to the economy of the county. Its value as well to cotton, maize and corn is measureless.

Someone measured surface moisture last week at 8 inches below the surface. So water indeed is what we need this week.

Good crops and livestock mean a $9 million income to Milam County.

So it could be a $9 million rain we're seeking.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR . . .

Managing Editor

Dear Mr. Luecke:

I have just read your editorial "Little River Not So Little" with a good deal of interest. Certainly, your observations are sound. It just reminded me of a story that I heard many years ago, and which I have repeated on many occasions generally before the Appropriations Committee. I have stated that this was the explanation of the name of the Little River: apparently the stream was so named because it was too "little" to carry the water

With best wishes, I am
Yours very sincerely,

The Cameron Herald

Dear Mr. Luecke:

Upon reading the item under the column 'Hi Pardner' in your paper about a slogan for the state of Texas, I felt stirred to make the following comment.

A slogan on the license plates is the silliest tag a Texan could wear. It is the least and last thing that a Texan needs. I have often seen those things on other state plates, but have never believed there would be a Texan who would "really want one for his very own." The necessary numbers and the word TEXAS is all that we have to make outsiders pause and take notice. Those who have traveled out - of - state know this. Anything else is up to our individual personalities, friendliness above all things. A slogan will not change that.

Only a license plate the size of a highway billboard could enumerate all the endearing things outsiders already know about us and our great state. And a billboard, fore and aft, would be rather hazardous on the highways, to say nothing about the added cost for size and durability. Such license plates would only give us another BIGGEST to boast about. And to maintain our present standard sized license plates, we certainly do not want our credentials advertized in fine print.

We may as well face it for now and all time to come, greatness cannot be condensed to a mere slogan on a license plate. Let us leave slogans for the states that have nothing much to offer but a slogan. Such slogans only belittle greatness.

However, if there are people who must be like small boys with a pencil or piece of chalk and feel they must scribble on the margins of our license plates, then I would not object to the simple but friendly and representatively Texas greeting, "Hi Pardner."

Sincerely,
Ad A. Kretschmar

Errors Decrease On Tax Returns

Every year there's a decrease in the number of errors discovered in Federal income tax returns, A. P. Andrews, Administrative Officer of Internal Revenue at Temple, said today.

But, he added, many mistakes continue to popup, sometimes in the oddest places, in individual income tax returns.

"I'm not advocating any particular method of checking or rechecking a return," the IRS representative declared. "I would suggest, though, that the return be checked immediately on completion, put aside for two or three days and then rechecked. Frequently taxpayers find an error which didn't show up at first look.

Padre Island Project Closer

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Texas' Padre Island National Seashore project is getting closer and closer to reality.

Already approved by Congress, it now is waiting for financing by the U. S. and approval by the State of Texas. Project could become a vast tourist attraction for Texas.

Final version of the bill giving the state's submerged lands in Laguna Madre and the state's approval of the project was worked out in conference committee. It won Senate approval. House endorsement virtually is assured.

This will convert the northern 81 miles of Padre Island into a natural reservation of seashore, to be kept unspoiled for the enjoyment of future generations.

LOANS

One phase of the battle over interest rates has ended. But more rounds likely are to come.

Senate spent two tough days in debate before passing a bill which allows those who lend $1,500 or less to charge more than 10 per cent interest. It does not apply to banks, savings and loan institutions credit unions and many types of cooperative lending organizations. But it does apply to all finance companies.

Sponsors of the bill wanted to allow more than 10 per cent interest on loans up to $3,000. But the Senate cut it down to $1,500. Rates as high as 464 per cent were permitted on loans as small as $5, under a fixed fee basis of calculating charges on loans under $100.

Further revision in the House, and probably thereafter in conference committee, is expected.

NETS

While one state agency was burning fishing nets, another was advertising for bids to buy some net. So a law change sailed through the Legislature to put a stop to that.

Old law says that when Game & Fish Commission men find an illegal net, they confiscate it, advise for the owner, and when he does not appear to claim it, they burn it.

New law will say that when they get to the burning stage, they can give it to the Marine Research agencies of the University of Texas and Texas A & M.

BILLS KILLED

Legislators appear to have killed some hot proposals.

One is the effort to abolish the state tax on property. Senate voted 23-4 to kill a proposed constitutional amendment to do away with the smallest part of that tax -- that which furnishes cash for state office buildings and pensions for old Texas Rangers and Confederate widows.

House killed a bill by Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth to prevent city councils from saying that employees of their cities must live in the cities.

Also, House killed a proposal by Rep. "Red" Berry of San Antonio to allow 18 - year - olds to vote. It got a bare majority -- 72 71 -- but as a constitutional amendment, it needed a two - thirds majority. Berry abandoned his proposals to allow betting on horse races in Bexar County.

Another bill to regulate companies which sell funerals in advance on the easy payment or "lay-away" plan was killed on a point of order.

FASTER SPEEDS

The long talked - about proposal to allow 70 miles an hour speeds on open highways went to Gov. John Connally for signature. Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo was the sponsor.

Proposal sets top speed at 70, but gives Sate Highway Department the power to reduce that speed limit where it is not safe.

LICENSE FEES

House passed a bill to exempt anhydrous ammonia tanks from the license plate fee if they weigh less than 4,000 pounds and are on wheels. If weight is between 4,000 and 10,000 pounds, license fee will be $5.

Cotton seed trailers were given the same treatment, extending to them the exemption which already applies to stock trailers.

Senate action now is required.

HOME — TOWN TREATMENT

A program aimed to save money and do a better job on treating mental illness went to Governor Connally for signature.

Rep. Malcolm McGregor of El Paso and Sen. Don Kennard of Fort Worth sponsored the plan. It allows the Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools to contract with local city or county hospitals to treat mentally ill or tubercular in their home counties.

Authorization of such a program on a statewide basis followed a test at El Paso which proved highly successful from both medical and financial standpoints.

STUDY ORDERED

A group of 25 Texans to be named by Governor Connally will take a long look at the State's system of education beyond the high school. Bill to allow him to appoint such a group went to his desk.

Group will report back to the next Legislature in 1965.

LAND FUSS

A dispute over ownership of 1,812 acres of land in Laguna Madre in Cameron County has resulted in a House resolution by Rep. Eligio (Kika) de la Garza of McAllen.

Resolution now is in a House State Affairs subcommittee. It would allow J. W. Luttes and Shell Oil Company to sue the state and establish title to the Laguna Madre tract.

THE OLD PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Doubts Medicine Is Ready To Perfect A Coin - Operated Diagnosis Machine

Dear editar:

I figured it was bound to happen sooner or later.

Any time you can wipe out whole cities just by pushing a firing button, explore outer space with a radio transmitter sending back messages from 10 million miles out, calculate vast and complicated mathematical problems in 2 seconds with an electronic brain, or have your coat dry - cleaned by an automatic machine you just drop it in, it's just a matter of time till automation hits the medical profession.

And sure enough, last night I read an article predicting that before very long medicine is going to have an electronic machine that'll produce an instant diagnosis. You just step inside, it'll x-ray you, take a blood sample, register your temperature, meditate a few seconds, and scientifically and electronically diagnose you.

I have been giving this machine some thought, and I suspect there'll have to be some improvements and added attachments before it'll come into popular use.

For example, say it's coin - operated. All right, you drop $25 in the slot, the door opens, and you step in. After the gears get through grinding and the lights through flashing, and the diagnosis comes out on a printed slip, ordinarily the door would re - open and you could step out and head for the drugstore with your prescription.

But what if you've got a complicated case, not just a handy virus? They'll have to have another coin slot inside to deposit more money in before the machine will let you out. No machine is going to treat you for a bad cold at the same rate it charges for a psycho - neurological break - down.

This thing is going to take a lot more study and research before it's ready to be put on the market. It'll take years, and it's a good thing, because when it gets time to get around to it, science is bound to come out eventually with a coin operated farm tractor, but we want to postpone it as long as we can.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Changes Noted In Outflow From Belton Dam

A letter to H. P. Tumlinson, of Cameron, from the Fort Worth District Army engineer notes a temporary change in the operating release of waters from Belton Reservoir and plans to include a Little River widening project in the Stillhouse Hollow project.

Col. F. P. Koisch said the outflow procedure has been changed "to reduce the problem to maximum extent possible without interfereing with the principal purpose of the dam."

He noted that the Corps of Engineers has recognized the need for downstream channel improvement to provide additional capacity for the upstream reservoir.

"We have included in our designs for Stillhouse Hollow a plan to clear Little River channel for some distance in the vicinity of the mouth of the San Gabriel River", he wrote.

"When accomplished, this plan will provide sufficient channel capacity for releases from Belton and Stillhouse Hollow Reservoirs and the three authorized projects on the San Gabirel River," Col. Koisch.

He noted the plan requires approval of others and made no guarantees, but he said "I am optimistic at this time."

A change was initiated early last month in the operation of Belton Reservoir to reduce flows in Ackerman's Slough traveling the Tumlinson T-Bar Ranch, Tumlinson said

BIG CATCH — Four out - of - county men have been charged in County Court with possession of electricity - producing apparatus for taking fish from the Little River. Game Wardens D. E. Davis and Loyd Gustin display some of the fish and the telephone used by the men. Gustin holds the illegal hoop net the men said they found in the river. They entered pleas of guilty in Milam County Court. —Staffoto

Not All Enforcement . . .

Game Warden's Job Varied

By James Hollas

Enforcement is only one phase of life of D. E. Davis. Milam County's resident game warden is one of the many game and fish law enforcement officers in Texas.

Davis, 27, joined the force a couple of years ago and is stationed in Cameron. He takes care of the 1,788 square mile area that composes Milam and Falls County.

The young warden's duties include law enforcement but a lot of his time is taken up by attempts to educate the public about wildlife and to try to prevent people from breaking laws. He also works with the State Health Department and he takes five water samples once a month. This is to check the water pollution in the Milam and Falls County streams.

Other duties include game and fish restoration and public appearances before clubs. He has spoken to various civic organizations and to scout troops.

But the wardens are mainly known for appearing in the wrong place just as a hunter or fisher violates the law.

FOLLOW TIPS

Davis said that most of the cases he charges, except license cases, are reported to him by local sportsmen. Up until last week he had only one major case in Milam County. That took place when a sportsman reported that someone was poisoning Elm Creek.

He was able to catch the violator, an out of county man, and fine him.

Davis said that there is a lot of trapping and "telephoning" going on in the streams in the two counties. But it is hard to catch the people running the traps. Sometimes he will spend days checking on a known trap and never find the man. He will then pull the trap and break it up leaving his card. The owner of the illegal device then will not think that someone else found it. This, Davis said, saves fights between friends and neighbors.

Telephoning is hard to catch because usually the law breakers are tipped off and leave. And if he has to chase them in the water, the violators have a boat that can out run him. But there have been a couple of times when the telephoners have had to toss their phones in the river because he got too close.

In an attempt to keep a close check on violations, the wardens try to drag every stream in the state once or twice a year. Besides this they spend two to four days a week on the river.

FISH, BIRD PROBLEMS

While deer violations are the leading violation in the state, they are not a major violation in Milam County. Most violations here concern fish, quail and dove.

However, last deer season at least two horses and one registered bull were killed. And this happened between the hours of 10 p. m. and 4 a. m. The deer season day ends at one - half hour after sunset.

Davis said that one of the most frequently asked questions is if a man needs a fishing license to fish on Alcoa Lake.

He does not because it is a private lake. Also some fishermen want to bring back the gill net for it too easy to catch catfish. Some will say you can't, but the warden claims it is easy. "And," he said with a smile, "the sportsman know it, too."

Davis works at least eight hours a day, six days a week. But he laughed and said that this was just the minimum and most of the time he worked a lot more than this. He hasn't had a Sunday off since he joined the force.

Why would a man take a job like this? Davis says his reasons are simple. He likes to work with the public. He formally worked for the City of Austin in electrical maintenance. The warden's job has a better pay scale and a better retirement system. "I like to hunt and fish," said the ex-Marine, "but I have done very little since I became a warden." And of course he likes law enforcement and game conservation.

His wife, Jeanette, is proud of him and his job. They have one daughter, Mary Christine, 17 months old.

And he adds that a warden's wife is very valuable. In some counties they have a radio in their home and the radio duties fall upon the wife. Although this is not true in Cameron, she does answer questions on game and fish laws when called upon.

9 MONTHS COURSE

To become a game warden the applicants take a series of competitive examinations. Then they enter a nine - month training cycle which includes training in subjects from public speaking to wildlife management. They include a semester of work at Texas A & M as they take regular courses in required subjects. He is then assigned to the force in the field somewhere in Texas.

The state furnishes a boat, trailer, motor, radio - equiped car, uniforms, binoculars and other needed items. Pay starts at $331.33 a month plus other benefits.

But no tax money is used to pay the salaries of the wardens. The Fish and Game Commission is paying its own way thru license sales, fines and the sale of sand and gravel.

The job has a lot of routine duties but there is excitement. When Davis was in training near Edinberg, a Mexican boy held a 22 caliber pistol on him and another warden. The wardens had approached the youth just after he had taken illegally a deer.

The boy could speak no English and the wardens could speak no Spanish. The situation became tense until the father of the boy came up and told the boy to throw the gun down.

THREATS, BRICKS

Some people threaten wardens. He and Gustin have been warned to stay out of a few areas. He has had a brick thrown through the windshield of his car, beer cans thrown in the yard and a trap burned. Vandals have also smeared fish on his car, taken valve stems out of two tires and other annoying stunts.

But the warden that was in Milam County before Davis had a trap set for him. Some fish trappers had attached a jar of black powder to a trap so that it would explode when pulled. Luckily the warden checked the trap and disarmed it.

On the other hand, some of the experiences are funny. Such as the man he saw fishing under the Hearne bridge. He was using a new rod and reel, new minnow bucket, driving a 1959 convertible and wearing a good suit of clothes.

When asked for his license he told Davis that he couldn't afford one. He had been out of work and was on county welfare. He was just trying to get food for his family. Needless to say, Davis didn't accept his story.

MANY LICENSES

On the opposite side of the ledge was the man he checked at Lake Waco. Seems the poor chap had three licenses.

Davis came up to the man's wife to check her license. She pulled out her license and one for her husband which she had purchased last September. She never told her husband about it.

As Davis was leaving he walked past the man. He asked Davis if he wanted to check his license also. Davis told him that his wife had his license.

Well, it seems the man had started out that morning and was about half way to the lake when he thought about a license. He checked his billfold and couldn't find the one he had bought himself last September.

So he turned around and went back to Waco and bought another license. When he reached into his billfold he gave Davis a license.

Davis looked at the date and remarked that he had bought his early.

"Yeah," said the man, "I bought it at 10 this morning." Davis showed him the license dated a few days after the new licenses came out.

The man stood dumfounded for a while until he figured out what had happened.

Cotton Research Recommended By Cotton Committee

COLLEGE STATION — Cutting cotton production costs should be the goal of stepped up cotton research, says the USDA's Cotton Research and Marketing Advisory Committee.

At its annual meeting held recently, the committee proposed more study on breeding, weed and insect control, cultural practices and seedbed preparation, soil and water management, harvesting equipment, ginning and related processes, and storing cotton and seed cotton.

The unattactive appearance of the American cotton bale was criticized and the committee advised the use of new lightweight cotton bagging materials, standardization of the bale size and better methods of sampling the bales.

Research on improving the wash and wear properties of cotton were recommended. New developments with stretch cotton, flame resistant cotton, and cloth that resists rot, heat and weahter promise to increase the use of cotton, the committee says.

The committee sees a need for more work on uses for cotton seed oil and a better cottonseed meal, with an accompanying improvement in the processing techniques of cotton seed.

The Cotton Research and Marketing Advisory Committee is made up of some of the nation's leaders in the industry and has two Texans among them. They are Otto Goedecke, president of Otto Goedecke Inc., Hallettsville, and Wilmer Smith, a Lynn county cotton grower.

Spray Fruit Trees Now

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

Peach and plum trees should be sprayed now to control the insect that will cause worms in peaches and plums. The plum curculio is a dark grayish beetle resembling the cotton boll weevil. This insect spends the winter as an adult and hides under trash, grass, and tree bark for protection from the cold.

During early April this adult curculio beetle comes out of hibernation and starts feeding on the new leaves and branches of plum and peach trees. But the middle of April egg laying starts and the female beetle deposits their eggs in early developing peaches and plums.

As the fruit grows, the egg hatches into a worm inside the peaches and plum. The worm stage is spent in the fruit.

To prevent worms in peaches and plums, spray now with a commercial fruit tree spray containing any of the following insecticides: malathion, sevin, dieldrin, plus wettable sulphur for brown rot control. A good spray mixture would be two teaspoons of Malathion and 3 teaspoons of wettable sulphur per one gallon of water.

Repeat the spray every 12 to 14 days until 3 applicatons have been made. Leaflet, 245 TEXAS GUIDE FOR CONTROLLING INSECTS & DISEASES is available at the county extension office.

Standing Pasture Now First Crop

COLLEGE STATION — No longer is permanent pasture a second choice crop in Texas. Only a few years ago much of our permanent pasture was on land worn out from continuous row cropping, says Shannon E. Carpenter, area dairy specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Today, however, livestock producers are aware that good pasture is their cheapest source of feed nutrients, Carpenter says. Good soil is the basis for good pastures and since there is only about 10 acres of land for every person in America, it is vital that it be used wisely and with care. In Texas many acres have been turned to pastureland with the use of power equipment and chemicals to remove brush.

The most economical way to harvest is by letting the animals graze it says Carpenter. Adequate grazing should be provided throughout the year rather than starving the animals at one season and feasting them at another. However, it is difficult to maintain the correct amount of pasture for the satisfactory growth of animals the yearround.

It takes good planning and good weather to have grazing the entire year and usually temporary pastures will be needed to supplement the permanent crops, advises Carpenter. The two biggest enemies of permanent pasture are lack of moisture and weeds, he adds. Also, wise planning of grazing will help maintain pastures later in the fall.

For more information on how to establish and maintain good pastures, see your local county agricultural agent. He has information that will help make your pasture n number one crop, concludes the specialist.
